LEWIS AGREES TO CONTRACT

Mine Workers Chieftain Withdraws His Strike Notice At Once

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 19—John L. Lewis today withdrew his contract termination notice to the government effective March 31 in compliance with a Supreme court mandate.

Lewis sent a 20-word letter to Secretary of Interior Krug announcing that the notice which he had given Krug last Nov. 15 is hereby unconditionally withdrawn.

It was this notice of contract termination that touched off the 37-day strike last fall.

Lewis called off that strike until March 31. His action today thus apparently erases the possibility of renewal of the work stoppage at the end of this month.

Without a contract, the miners historically do not work.

Thus, Lewis' action continues in force the contract he signed with Krug late last spring after the government had seized the mines to end a 59-day stoppage.

It was this contract that Lewis sought to end last fall. The government obtained an order from Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough directing Lewis and his miners to call off a strike that followed in November.

When Lewis refused, he and the miners were held guilty of contempt. Lewis was fined $10,000 and the United Mine Workers were fined $350,000. The Supreme court upheld the contempt convictions and Lewis' fine.

The court, however, directed that the union fine be reduced to $700,000, provided Lewis withdraw his notice ending the contract with the government within five days after issuance of the Supreme court mandate.

Miners Are Notified
Subsequently, on petition of the government, the Supreme court expedited effectiveness of its order. Its mandate is to be filed with the federal district court tomorrow.

Thus, by obeying the court order today, Lewis saves the mine union a possible additional fine of $2,700,000.

Copies of Lewis' letter also went to members of the UMW notifying them that he had called off his notice to end the contract with the government.

METER ORDINANCE PASSED BY COUNCIL

May Delay Greek Aid

Foreign Policy Blueprint Insisted By Republicans

WASHINGTON, March 19—Republicans in congress insisted today on a broad accounting of administration foreign policy before granting American dollars to build fences against Communism in Greece and Turkey.

As the lawmakers settled down to translate President Truman's $400,000,000 request into legislation, many said it would be a close finish between action by congress and the March 31 withdrawal of the British from Greece.

Evidence mounted the Greek-Turkish aid bill is only one aspect of a developing American program to help weak nations ward off Communism, not only through economic aid but by demonstrating its armed might abroad.

This strategy seemed to be bound up in the administration's decision to send a powerful naval task ploughing through the Mediterranean next month to Russia's gateway, the Dardanelles.

The demonstration of sea and air might will come at a time—congress willing—when this country's policy makers plan to send into Greece and Turkey aid in the form of money, material and military advisors.

High Approval Necessary
Although the navy described the maneuvers as for "training purposes," it was obvious that such a decision could not have been reached without approval of the President and Secretary of State Marshall in view of possible repercussions from Russia.

This was the situation elsewhere in the capitol as the chief executive's proposal for an historic revision of foreign policy held top attention.

1. The house foreign affairs committee ordered public hearings, tomorrow on the $400,000,000 measure to aid Greece and Turkey.

2. Chairman Eaton (R-N.J.) called the committee into executive session today to vote formal approval of another measure authorizing expenditure of $350,000,000 for relief in five European countries—Italy, Greece, Hungary, Austria and Poland—and China.

3. Senator Tydings (D-Md.) told the senate President Truman should call a world disarmament conference immediately because of the "impotence of the United Nations as presently constituted" to deal effectively with the international affairs.

4. Under-Secretary of State Dean Acheson cautioned at a new conference that disaster may result in Greece if there is a substantial gap between the end of British aid and the beginning of American help.

5. Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) protested in a radio address against "purchasing our way" into a controversy between Russia, Britain, and Turkey over the Dardanelles, terming it "international suicide."

He said Britain is attempting to unload her "bloody Russia" tactics upon "any boob nation that will grab the hook."

TIME RUNNING OUT

City Council Likely To Decide In Two Weeks About 'Fast' Time

City council apparently is stalemated on the question of what time Salem will operate on this summer after Tuesday's meeting at city hall when an ordinance calling for a return to Eastern Standard time was given its second reading.

The ordinance, initiated by Councilman Fred Blevins, would repeal an existing ordinance which calls for a switch to Daylight Saving time the last Sunday in April each year.

Final reading and a vote on the debatable measure will be forthcoming at council's April 1 meeting. Last night's session saw council faced with petitions favoring both times. Petitions including 977 names asked that "fast" time be retained while other petitions, with 961 signatures, asked that the ordinance repealing daylight time be passed.

Joe Kelley, Memorial building manager, presented the former stating that it was in the best interest of the city's recreational programs to have daylight time.

The similarity in the totals on the two sets left council with little actual information, other than there is an apparent unusual interest in the proposal.

Undoubtedly the action of nearby cities, such as Cleveland and Youngstown, will have a definite bearing on council's final decision in two weeks. Several of the members have expressed themselves unofficially as favoring maintaining whatever time seems most utilized in northeastern Ohio.

Mullins Mfg. Co. Sued By Troy Manufacturer

CLEVELAND, March 19—Hobart Manufacturing Co. of Troy, O., filed suit in federal court today against Mullins Manufacturing Corp. of Salem and Warren, O., asking that Mullins be enjoined from using a trade mark similar to one used by Hobart on kitchen equipment which it produces.

The suit also asked that Hobart be awarded treble damages, to be determined by the court, based on profits accrued to Mullins from use of its trade name. No specific amount was requested.

The Hobart petition said a trademark "Kitchenaid," used by Mullins as "confusingly similar" to the mark "Kitchenaid" used by Hobart. The plaintiff said this constituted infringement of the trade mark and unfair competition.

CIVIC COMMITTEE OUTLINES PROGRAM

A four-point program of the Business Bureau's civic committee was explained by its chairman, Alroy Bloomberg, in a talk before the Rotary club Tuesday in the Memorial building.

The committee, he said, is interested in sidewalk improvements, a recreation program, a street sweeper and city zoning.

In the discussion that followed, recreation received the major consideration. Bloomberg explained that the committee was particularly interested in an addition to the Memorial building and in playgrounds for children. How to finance the building plan remains undecided, he added.

Zoning, it was brought out in the discussion, is a function of the City Planning commission which has not yet reached the stage in its program to prepare zoning regulations. Much other work of city planning is ahead of the commission before it will be prepared to lay out zoning districts.

Bloomberg was presented to the club by E. M. Stephenson, program chairman.

Church Young People Plan Easter Service

A group of young people representing five Salem churches met in the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening to formulate plans for the 7 a. m. Easter sunrise service to be held in the Baptist church.

The program, to be announced later, was planned by the following committee: Presbyterian, Charles Ward, chairman, and Billie Ann Finley; Nazarene, William Parks and Glenn Thorne; Baptist, Walter Taylor, Mary Lippitt and Lee Sproat; Christian, Victor Lake and Lucy Huston; Methodist, Phyllis Floyd and Margaret Cope.

Bliss Company Keeps Abreast Of Mill Equipment Demands

E. W. Bliss Company is taking steps to meet industry's need for greater rolling mill output. It was announced today by Marshall M. Smith, company president.

"With fabricators' requirements still in excess of metal processing capacity, Bliss is hastening to supply the market, both here and abroad, with the rolling mills and accessories necessary to increase the available supply of ferrous and non-ferrous sheet and strip," Smith stated.

"Toward this end," he continued, "capacity of the Salem division has been doubled by addition of facilities for steel weldment production. At present output of weldment is about one million pounds monthly."

Smith indicated that the company's other manufacturing divisions will be called upon to share the burden of increased mill orders on a reciprocal basis with the Salem plant, which now figures largely in Bliss's press-building program.

"This flexibility of scheduling will assure maximum utility of our facilities for design and manufacture in all categories," Smith explained, "and will involve extended use of our Mechanite foundries at Toledo and Hastings."

Smith said that his remarks dealt with part of a general company plan, intended to project over a long period of time Bliss's seven years' average sales volume of $30 millions annually. He considers such long range planning to be of special importance to capital goods builders, whose histories have been marked by unusually sharp peak-and-valley fluctuations.

Bliss builds mechanical and hydraulic presses, can-making machinery, and special sheet-metal working equipment, in addition to its rolling mill manufactures.

Mission Worker Dies
MIDDLETOWN, March 19—Miss Margaret Hess, 56, who served 27 years in Korea as a Methodist missionary before her retirement, died yesterday of a heart ailment. Burial will be at Alliance Friday.

"I guess we've been lucky," Blanchard said, lying on a hospital bed at MacDill field. "The only things that saved us were the Lord, a stout boat and the army air forces."

"We had 12 signal flares when we started, but we had fired all but one. We really prayed when I fired that last one. When the big army plane dipped its wings and turned towards us I knew we were saved."

"We cast off from the big ship, the yacht Rhogian II," King related, "about daybreak on Saturday morning, March 8, because it was leaking and the captain thought we were about 20 miles from shore. The little boat had been previously damaged both in the bow and stern."

Capt. James Blanchard, 38, of Newport News, brother of Horace, remained alone aboard the yacht and kept it afloat by bailing continuously with a bucket for seven days before being towed to Key West by a navy tug Sunday.

Zonal Boundary Problem

U. S. Officials Pessimistic About Conference Success

MOSCOW, March 19—Top American officials predicted today unless the Council of Foreign Ministers finds—and agrees upon—some overall solution for Germany's current problems there will be no solution at all.

These informants said the council meetings had reached a point at which it was apparent that great difficulties would be encountered in getting to such an overall solution and added the situation in Germany now is so badly split, up that piecemeal settlements seemed impossible.

Unless Russia is willing to go along with some sort of sweeping program to wipe out all zonal boundaries and organize German life on a national basis, they continued, the Moscow conference seemed doomed to fail.

Relations Get Sour
Easy relationships of Secretary of State George C. Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia seem to be souring.

The two western ministers particularly resented Soviet repetition of charges against British-American conduct in Germany, which they consider to have been long since disproved.

A clash last night, when Marshall and Bevin denounced a Molotov charge that the Western nations had got $10,000,000,000 in German patent reparations, was the latest.

New Attack Victim Found Still Alive

LOS ANGELES, March 19—An unidentified woman, her skull slashed by a hard blow but still alive, was found unconscious today in bushes at Elysian park and rushed to a police receiving hospital.

Squads of detectives, already faced with three unsolved feminine slayings, hurried to the park. A caretaker said he was attracted by the sound of low moans and found the woman, apparently about 45 years old. A maroon dress and an orange shawl or bandana had been torn to pieces.

This new assault victim was found as authorities pressed investigations into four brutal slayings of women in the Los Angeles area since the first of the year.

In an accumulating series of incidents demonstrating the erosion of the easy atmosphere of the first council sessions.

The Americans are pursuing an all-or-nothing policy so far as a current German agreement is concerned, but diplomatic observers say the Russians' approach to the problem seems difficult from their own point of view.

If Germany remains split, these observers said, Russia stands to get little or no reparations from the western zones, but if the country is unified on the basis of a broad, general settlement, they will have to give up their demand for greatly extended reparations from current production and agree to share in the German deficit along with the Western powers.

Developments inside the meeting room contrasted strongly with the festive air of the council of foreign ministers' first big social event last night, when Molotov entertained the other three ministers and their chief advisers at a dinner and reception.

The reception guests included hundreds of other diplomats here for the council meetings and in the regular diplomatic corps.

Alternate delegates are McGaffick, Edward Leach, Clarence Schuring, Alfred August, Robert Carpenter and Harvey Breitenstein.

Absenteeism Threatens To Close Lisbon Schools

LISBON, March 19 — Mounting absenteeism today threatened to close Lisbon schools, Supt. H. C. Leonard stated 58 per cent of the students are absent from classes in the grade schools and the high school due to illness.

Many cases of flu, colds and mumps are said to be responsible for the absenteeism which even include four of the teaching corps, and Supt. Leonard, who is confined to his home with bronchitis.

County Supt. of Schools W. E. Roberts, stated that the Chandler school, west of Lisbon in Center township, was closed Tuesday afternoon when it was determined 50 per cent of the children are confined to the homes with colds.

The grade building at New Garden has just been re-opened after having been closed several days.

2 PATROLMEN TO BE HIRED TO AID FORCE

Parking Meter Enforcement Expected To Begin April 1

Ordinances setting up regulations for Salem's 174 new parking meters authorizing the employment of two additional patrolmen were passed under emergency rules by city council Tuesday night.

Regulations to enforce the use of the meters will become effective on or about April 1, officials estimated, after which time motorists will be required to deposit a penny or nickel when parking in the downtown business district.

The new patrolmen will be appointed as soon as a list of eligible men is certified to Safety Director C. E. Phillips by the civil service commission.

There are four men on the eligibility list, so a new examination is not necessary.

The officers will be hired at $194 a month for the first six months and thereafter at $206 a month. The addition will raise the force to seven patrolmen, a night captain and a chief.

Assigned To Meter Work

Patrolmen Martin Lutsch and Howard Forney, formerly on the night force, will handle the parking meter checking throughout the days, Chief Nerr Gount said.

The ordinance stipulates that the salaries of three of the patrolmen will be paid from the new parking meter fund, which was established by ordinance last night.

One new patrolman, Robert Kirchessner, was added to the force recently, in preparation for the meter setup.

The rules on use of the meters provides for:

(1) A two-hour parking maximum, effective from 8 until 6 p. m. each week day and from 8 until 9 p. m. Saturdays. The meters will not be enforced on Sundays or legal holidays.

(2) A fine of $1 for parking overtime which can be paid at the mayor's office any time within 10 days after a ticket is left on a car.

(3) A fine of $50, plus payment of double the amount of damage for defacing or willfully harming the parking meters.

(4) Rates on the meters allow 60 minutes for a nickel, 120 minutes for two nickels and 12 minutes per penny.

Where Installed

Meters have been installed on E. State st., from S. Ellsworth ave. to Vine ave.; on S. Ellsworth ave. to E. Pershing st.; on Penn ave. to E. Pershing st.; on S. Broadway to E. Pershing st. and on N. Lincoln ave. to Sugarfree alley.

Police Chief Nerr Gaunt said the actual enforcement of the meter ordinance would probably begin around April 1, if the weather permits the necessary space mark painting in the next two weeks. He said workers would start painting as soon as possible.

Twenty-two feet are allowed in each space in parallel parking and 41 feet for the diagonal parking spaces on S. Broadway. The meters are located 18 inches back of the curb.

Fund Transfer Made

Council also passed an ordinance transferring $400 from the general fund to the safety department fund to purchase nine new guns for the police department.

An ordinance authorizing the sale of small plots of city property on Ridgewood drive and at the corner of Ohio ave. and E. Pershing st. was also passed.

Petitions asking for the vacation of an alley on 18th st., and one requesting that Wilson st., between Pine and Shady aves., be paved were referred to the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee.

Mayor R. R. Johnson's monthly report showed an income of $489.17 for February. Of that amount $4 was for building permits, $14 for license, $287.57 for city fines, $150 state highway patrol cases and $33.60 city costs.

The Restful City

Researchers who have been studying the prevalence of insanity in Ohio have concluded that mental maladjustments are more frequent in the country than in the city. This is a fine how-do-you-do with which to confront the admirer of Thoreau and the fellow who's been saving up to buy a little place in the country.

It certainly is a finding at variance with what is generally believed to be the case, and since the survey was confined to an intensive study of one county, Miami, rather than a sampling of scattered areas, it could be that the survey's conclusions are misleading.

The researchers suggest that the best adjusted farm youth may be migrating to the cities, leaving the maladjusted to run the farms. Or could it be that all the monotonous drudgeries and thrummings inherent in farm life—the crickets, the frogs, the dog baying at the moon, the horses clumping in their stalls and the intermittent squabbles in the poultry yard—are in sum total worse than the strain of city life? A far-fetched conclusion, but if the researchers are correct, the day may come when psychiatrists will prescribe for farm-dwellers a rest in the city to settle their nerves.

Flu's Too Good For It

One wonders as the flu victims stagger and fall out of line whether there was the same thing in the old days and, if there was, how civilization survived. If world supremacy ever is achieved by one nation, it will be the one whose citizens are first to develop immunity to the flu. After that, everything will be simple. All the other nations will be knocked off during flu epidemics.

The beauty of this plan of conquest is that the victims won't mind. When flu strikes, all else is relatively inconsequential. The eyes are two painful spheres forced into the front elevation of a structure once known as the head before it turned into a blob of throbbing bone suitable only for placing tenderly on pillows. The rest of the body is painfully protesting present, but something has happened to the sum of all of its parts; they don't add up to anything cogent.

Surely, nothing so humiliating ever could have happened to a human being. This wretched condition—this vile flu—is nothing proper for men to tolerate in an order of things based on dignity. Flu is the antithesis of dignity. Mere man was never intended to bear so deep a humiliation, so unspeakable a mortification of the flesh. There must be some worse name for this modern plague than merely "flu."

Men In Motion

Gen. MacArthur's knowledge of football, it may be assumed, is adequate for the game he is playing as supreme commander for the Allied powers in defeated Japan. He undoubtedly understands the principle of the man in motion.

This is the man the opposition must watch, for two reasons. First, he is in motion. Second, he may be going somewhere. Not to watch him may be fatal. To watch him may be fatal. Also the man in motion is one of the triumphs of deception in American sports.

Gen. MacArthur now has constituted himself the man in motion in international power politics, a relatively new game which the United States is learning to play. He has announced without warning that negotiations should begin on a peace treaty for Japan. Military occupation, he says, should be terminated as soon as possible. Further control of the Japanese nation then should pass to the United Nations, he believes.

This will give the opposition something to think about, in addition to affairs in the Middle East, Lake Success, Moscow and various war stations. Where MacArthur is going is conjectural. What he intends to do is conjectural. How soon he intends to do it and why also are conjectural. The man-in-motion is a beautiful play to watch.

Dragon's Teeth

Two facts stand out in J. Edgar Hoover's report on crime in the nation during 1946. The first is that the arrest total reached a 10-year high of 645,341, and the second is that for the first time since 1938 there were more persons arrested in the 21-year age group than in any other.

"The gradual breakdown of the American home is beginning to be reflected in the national behavior pattern and is a real cause for alarm," said Mr. Hoover.

Juvenile toughs, who learned their way around while under lax parental supervision, or no supervision at all, are coming of age now and are having their first serious brushes with the police. High-paying jobs are not so easily come by as they were during the war, but those who had a taste of the big money are loathe to settle for less now. There is evidence that old gangs are regrouping. Crime increased 7.6 percent over 1945, only automobile theft showing a decrease among the principal felonies.

Crime prevention and social welfare agencies face a real task in the next few years. The nation is beginning to harvest its wartime crop of dragon's teeth.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, March 20

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

EVENTS of a breath-taking and exciting nature are likely to produce a long-range if not radical effect on the life and its future happiness and place in the scheme of things, social, domestic, romantic as well as business and financial affairs.

However, there is sign of a false front, or extravagance, excess or other unprofitable and unpleasant experience where funds are concerned. Shun spurious values, show, and recklessness in the many-sided contacts and obligations. Realism as well as romance should find balance in promoting all plans.

Birthday Forecast

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of the surprising, thrilling, dramatic and far-reaching in all preparations for a prosperous, happy and productive life.

While there is definite promise for the fulfillment of cherished hopes and wishes as they affect the present as well as future purpose and plans yet a tendency to splurge, put up a false front, or a show of extravagance, unjustified expenditure, or other rash or wasteful use of assets and resources, financial as well as social, would react unhappily and with regret.

Some idea of thrift, economy and security might insure a prosperous and pleasant future.

A child born on this day should have excellent promise of a progressive, pleasant and adventurous career, if it be directed in proper and economic use of funds and assets.

More strawberries this year than last, says the Department of Agriculture. For some folks that's rash promise.

Time saved by crashing traffic lights is often lost waiting for an ambulance.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Recovery From Flu Sometimes Slow

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Many health officers are today of the opinion that ere long influenza may again be on the rampage. That is why it is well for patients who have had an attack of influenza to realize that they cannot rush the business of getting well.

In the first place, they may not regain their full vitality at once. They are quite likely to experience such symptoms as pain here or there in the body, accompanied by tiredness and weakness which may last for some time.

This condition is most likely to develop if the attack of influenza has been prolonged and the patient has been slow in recovering from it.

Other Symptoms

In addition to the symptoms mentioned, the patient may have frequent and recurrent attacks of ore throat and cough, night sweats, poor appetite, loss of weight, sleeplessness, tingling of the fingers and toes, and lack of energy.

According to Dr. Gordon G. Allison of Atlanta, Georgia, these symptoms may occur for as long as six to 10 months. On examination of the throat, it is often found that the roof of the mouth and the back of the throat as well as the tonsils are red and swollen. In addition, there is some swelling of the lymph glands in the neck.

The lymph glands at the root of the lung may also be enlarged as shown by X-ray plates.

Dr. Allison believes that the symptoms occur because the virus which produces influenza is still present in the body, particularly in the lymph glands, thus causing the pain in various parts of the body.

Many of the patients develop anemia, or a lessening of the coloring in the blood. Such preparations as the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin do not seem to have any effect in this condition.

The treatment consists in keeping the patient at rest, particularly when the pain is at all severe or if there is fever. The application of heat may also help to relieve the pain. This can be done with hot, wet dressings, with an electric heat pad, or hot water bottle.

Injection of Protein

Another form of treatment which is used is to give an injection of some protein, such as boiled milk. This produces fever and eventually aids in overcoming the difficulty.

Dr. Allison also recommends the use of some preparation such as potassium iodide. Some iron-containing preparation may also be administered to overcome the anemia. If the patient is not relieved by these measures, a mixture containing vitamin B-1 or thiamine and a local anesthetic or pain-relieving preparation is injected in and around the painful area. It has been found that if such injections have been carried out twice weekly for two weeks, the pain is lessened and the duration of the attack shortened to a great extent.

I have mentioned many times the danger of returning to normal activities too soon after an attack of influenza. A patient who has such a condition should remain in bed at complete rest until there has been no fever for a least 48 hours.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILETT
A young New York artist, in a recent trade against the "modern girl," said that men want honesty in a woman "first and foremost."

That may be what they THINK they want. But a completely honest woman would never get a man to the altar, much less hold on to him afterward.

Women are such practical, calculating creatures that if they were completely honest with men about their motives and reactions it would scare the men to death.

A girl takes a long look in her mirror one day and decides it is time for her to get a husband. From the moment that decision is made, every man she meets is potential husband material.

With a calculating eye she picks the man she wants and then sets out to make him fall in love with her. If she were honest with the man at this point, about her intentions and her reasons for wanting to get married, he would run a mile.

And so it goes—from the first

Members of P. H. C. Hold Meeting

With District Men In the Service

Pvt. Frederick W. Koenreich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Koenreich of 1408 E. Pershing st., has just completed ski school training at Cortina, Italy.

At Cortina, which was and is a beautiful resort in the Italian Alps, Pvt. Koenreich spent a week learning to ski under the instruction of professional and top-flight army skiers.

Graduating from Salem High school in June 1946, Koenreich enlisted in the Army on Sept. 17, 1946, for a tour of 18 months duty. He took his basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas, in anti-aircraft.

Upon completion of his basic training and a furlough, he left the United States for foreign duty. He landed in Italy in December and on the 14th joined the 88th "Blue Devil" division at Gorizia, Italy.

At present Pvt. Koenreich is in the communications section of A Battery of the 337th Field Artillery battalion. When his enlistment is completed he intends to go to college.

THE THEATER

One of the many scenes of hilarity from "The Time, The Place and The Girl," with Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson, Janis Paige and Martha Vickers.

"The Time, the Place, and the Girl," the gala technicolor musical, opens tonight at the State and continues for the remainder of the week.

Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson, Janis Paige and Martha Vickers co-star in this tuneful romance, along with Carmen Cavallaro and his band.

The daring drama of Shanghai life is shown in "Shanghai Gesture," which stars Gene Tierney, Walter Huston and Victor Mature. While "Rolling Home," a tale of a gal, a boy and a horse are Grand theater attractions for tonight.

Thrills and music combine in the western, "Rainbow Over the Rockies," which stars Jimmy Wakely, and Chester Morris is featured in the suspenseful drama "Blind Spot."

Attempt To Link Russian Agents To New York Slaying

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 19—Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet said today that the New York county district attorney's office would consider a request that the role of the Russian secret police (NKVD) in connection with the unsolved slaying of Carlo Tresca, Italian language labor newspaper editor, be investigated.

Grumet's comment was made after a group, headed by Socialist Leader Norman Thomas, left with him a statement which urged the district attorney "to summon a grand jury to investigate the role of NKVD and certain American Communist party leaders" in the Tresca slaying in New York on Jan. 11, 1933, and the disappearance of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

Miss Poyntz, one-time Communist leader, was declared legally dead in October, 1944, seven years after disappearing from her mid-Manhattan residence in June, 1937. At the time, Surrogate James A. Foley noted that charges had been made that she was "kidnapped and removed to Russia."

Activities Disclosed
The Thomas-led group said in its statement that the book, "This Is My Story," by Louis F. Budenz, former member of the Communist party's national committee, "reveals highly important information about the terrorist activities of the NKVD, the Russian secret police, in the United States."

Thomas said the group had received "assurances" from Grumet, adding: "We don't expect a miracle." He said the group told Grumet that federal and local prosecutors should "band together in an all-out effort to stamp out Communist terrorists and political murderers."

The Socialist leader said the group urged that "a grand jury investigation or a John Doe investigation" should be conducted to stop "Soviet agents from enlisting aid of Americans in these plots and murders. It's time for law enforcement to put an end to this terror. But it's an international problem."

Thomas said his group considered as political slayings the death of George P. McNear, Jr., president of the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad in Peoria, Ill.

Accompanying Thomas were Attorney James T. Farrell and City Councilman Louis P. Goldberg, representing the 47 signers of the statements.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

News Notes Of Activities Of Ohio Senators, Representatives

WASHINGTON—Senator Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) is writing a book on congressional humor, ha ha!

It's coming out in October. Then you, too, can laugh your head off with your congressman.

Wiley told a reporter today he has been gathering congressional jokes ever since he came to town in 1939.

"Due to the tension of their work," he said, "congressmen need jokes. They're laugh-hungry."

But let's not wait until October to visit our laugh-hungry congressmen. Let's peek at a few samples—neither the best nor the worst—in Wiley's collection of 300 jokes.

Senator Theodore Green (D-R.I.) tells the story of the tightwad who called his employees together at the end of the year and said:

"Here is a check for a New Year's gift. We have done well this year. If we do as well next year, bring the check around and I will sign it."

Rep. E. Wallace Chadwick (R-Pa.) said this really happened to him. He was introduced to a woman who asked:

"Are you really a congressman? I never thought that congressmen were people you met. I thought they were just people you voted against."

Senator William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) tells of the visitor to the senate who listened to the chaplain open a session with a prayer. The visitor turned to his friend and said:

"It isn't those guys down there he should pray for. It's the people of this country that need the prayers."

Rep. Paul Dague (R-Pa.) recalls the fellow who wanted a divorce. He went to his lawyer complaining that all his wife did was talk, talk, talk, morning, noon and night.

"What does she talk about?" The lawyer asked.

"Well," said the fellow thoughtfully, "she don't say."

In his joke-telling letter to Wiley, Dague said he hadn't run across any strictly congressional humor.

And he added moodily: "Frankly, to me congress is no joke."

LEETONIA

Leetonia lodge No. 401, F. & A. M., will have two special sessions this week at the Masonic temple according to Worshipful Master C. Eldon Holt, Jr. The first session will be held Wednesday evening, when three candidates will receive work in the fellowcraft degree. The second session will be held Friday evening, when the Master Mason degree will be conferred on one candidate.

Henry Gibson, chief of police, will attend an eight-week Federal Bureau of Investigation Police school which is being held in East Liverpool each Thursday afternoon.

Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H club met today to plan for this coming year. Mrs. T. P. Laughner and Mrs. W. E. Gibson will serve as advisors.

TAX CUTS BEFORE JULY 1 UNLIKELY

Knutson Concedes Legislation Won't Be Retroactive To Jan. 1

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—The chances faded today for any cut in income taxes taking effect before July 1.
Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), chairman of the tax-writing house ways and means committee, acknowledged that a study is being made to determine whether that date—the start of the 1948 fiscal year—should be specified.
His measure for a 20 percent across-the-board tax slash would make it retroactive to Jan. 1.
Knutson's announcement to newsmen came after Rep. Kean (R-N.J.), a member of the ways and means group, declared his determination to press for a delay in the effective date.
Kean insisted that making the cut apply back to the first of the year might kill current prospects for a balanced federal budget this fiscal year—the first since 1930.
Senator Taft (Ohio), chairman of the potent Republican senate policy committee, already has suggested that any reduction be made effective at the start of the government's accounting year, July 1.
Confronted meanwhile by stiff opposition to the Knutson across-the-board proposition, ways and means Republicans resumed work on a revision that would give a deeper cut to small taxpayers.
At the same time house consideration of the sizzling issue was postponed from next Monday to Wednesday, while the revisions are under study.

Because of the use of tar on roads adjoining their vineyards, wine growers of the Rhone valley complained that their wines tasted of the tar.

TOWNSHIP SCHOOL TEACHERS RETURN

Springfield Group Demands Hearing Before Board Members

The high school faculty of Springfield township in Mahoning county returned to their jobs today because they said, of their "regard for the welfare of the school system and community."
The teachers who assailed "an accumulation of disciplinary failures so serious as to dissuade further inattention" declared the school system "and its ability to fill the needs of the community are jeopardized by these failures."
Returning to work after the board warned the teachers jobs would be declared vacant if they stayed away, the instructors, issuing a formal statement, said "we do not consider the matter closed." The teachers will demand a full hearing of all grievances involving what they termed lax discipline, before the school board.
Some 475 students at Petersburg, New Middletown, New Springfield schools enjoyed a holiday following the climax of events started last Friday with suspension for three weeks and a decree of probation for the rest of the school year on Robert Warner, Petersburg sophomore.
Asserting the students discipline was too mild and claiming the suspension should have been for a full year, the Petersburg instructors left their jobs. The youth was accused of striking a teacher while being reprimanded.
Officials operating a school bus line said they could not provide service for only two schools and the New Middletown, and New Springfield institutions were shutdown.
Farmers in this country now raise about three times as much turkey as they did ten years ago.

Doctor Convicted In Abortion Case

CLEVELAND, March 19.—Dr. Lee B. Warren, convicted of performing an illegal operation on a 22-year-old Lorain woman, was free today on $10,000 bond pending an appeal by defense counsel of the 66-year-old physician's conviction.
Convicted by a jury of seven women and five men after three hours and 35 minutes of deliberation, Dr. Warren was sentenced yesterday to one to seven years in prison by Common Pleas Judge Stanley L. Orr, who asserted the defendant was a "disgrace to an honorable profession."
Judge Orr overruled an immediate motion for a new trial by defense attorneys but set Dr. Warren's bond at $10,000 after the defendant's counsel filed a notice of intention to appeal the verdict.
Three women from Lorain, Elyria and Cleveland testified in the four-day trial that Dr. Warren, a resident of Lorain who maintains an office in Cleveland, had performed illegal operations on them at his local office. Dr. Warren was acquitted by the jury on another count of performing an abortion on a 15-year-old Elyria girl.
The defendant admitted he had treated the women, but denied he had aborted them. He also admitted he had served a term at San Quentin prison for larceny, but denied ever performing an abortion during 26 years of medical practice.
The word heathen once referred to country folk.

Any price is too high if it can be reduced

Fowler McCormick

International Harvester
announces $20,000,000 price reductions

We believe there is nothing more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods that people buy.

The American people have insisted that the government withdraw from its attempts to control prices in peacetime. That places the responsibility where it belongs—in the hands of business and industry. Not all business can reduce prices now. Not all can reduce by the same amount.

Our company has felt a duty to act as promptly as possible. In our case, the business outlook now makes it possible to move toward the goal of lower prices. The only way out of the vicious circle of higher and higher prices is to break through.

We have taken this step not because of present competitive conditions nor because of a drop in demand from customers. We have taken it because of our belief that ANY PRICE IS TOO HIGH IF IT CAN BE REDUCED.

These reductions, which will save the users of our products approximately $20,000,000 a year, will become effective before April 1, and will apply to a selected list of tractor, farm machine, motor truck, and industrial power products. Since we lose money on a few of our products, and barely break even on some others, these reductions will not apply to our entire line. Reductions will be made individually on products. Some will be cut more than others. Exact details will be announced as soon as possible.

Our ability to maintain this lower level of prices will depend in part on what happens to the prices and flow of materials that we buy from others. Because we believe price reduction is vital, we are willing to assume the risks that are involved.

These benefits to customers will depend, too, on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels. This is not a program that can be carried out if it is hampered by strikes or work stoppages.

Our employees have had substantial increases in pay, and wage questions are currently being discussed with many of the unions with which we deal. Stockholders have recently had an increase in dividend rate. Having considered the interests of these two groups, we are now making these price reductions for the benefit of the third group—our customers.

Business, to our way of thinking, has a social as well as an economic responsibility. This company has long followed the policy of operating in the interests of three groups—its customers, its employees and its stockholders. The duty of the management is to see that equal justice is done as between the three groups.

This price reduction program is another demonstration of our policy in action.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour "food taste."

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. Its vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

FOR THE PROTECTION OF CUSTOMERS NEW REGULATIONS HAVE BEEN ADOPTED ON GAS HEATING

With the consent of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, the Rule shown below has been added to the Rules and Regulations of this company.

This Regulation Effective March 10

The increase in the use of natural gas for heating has been extremely rapid since the removal of government wartime restrictions. To protect customers in their present use of gas, it has been necessary to place this regulation into effect on March 10, 1947.

No applications for gas service to principal heating equipment for any building—residential, commercial, industrial or public—can be approved at this time except those which come under priorities 1 and 2 of the Regulation. Your local Gas Company office is equipped to give you information.

SO MANY WANT GAS HEATING—Pre-War facilities are unequal to Post-War demand Expansion proceeding as rapidly as possible

The overwhelming demand for gas heating is conclusive evidence that its desirability is generally recognized. It is unfortunate that everyone desiring the same cannot immediately begin to enjoy the convenience, the cleanliness, the comfort, the economy and the many other advantages of gas heating where they live and work. But that time will come as rapidly as additional quantities of natural gas can be delivered to this area.

There is an adequate supply of gas in the Southwest producing fields from which gas is piped into this area. The situation today is the direct result of the war. Essential materials, such as pumps, valves, pipe and accessories, were not generally available throughout the war, for obvious reasons. Even today—eighteen months since hostilities ceased—these materials are in such limited supply that this company and its suppliers of gas have been unable to carry forward their plans to the extent required for necessary expansion. The same situation exists throughout far-western, mid-western and eastern parts of the country which are dependent on natural gas.

YOUR COOPERATION IS APPRECIATED

During recent cold waves, it has been necessary, as you know, to curtail the use of gas by industries. In some cases, to ask that householders use no more gas than necessary. (The residential demand for gas during extremely cold weather this winter is almost double that of a corresponding period of last year and industrial demand is about as great as during the peak war period). Your response to these requests is appreciated. We shall be grateful for your cooperation with the provisions of this new Regulation on gas heating. On our part, we pledge our continued, unabating efforts to obtain for you the natural gas you want for your home or business.

State Basketball Tournament Draws Nearly A Million Fans

Chance That County Teams May Take Both Titles New Wrinkle In Tourney Books

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, March 19.—A few facts and fancies on Ohio's high school championship cage classic which starts tomorrow at the state fairgrounds coliseum:

Big business—That's what the annual basketball barge is getting to be, insofar as the Ohio High School Athletic association is concerned.

Gate receipts, through the county, sectional, district, regional and state events run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, with close to a million customers sitting in on the festivities, and the OHSA cutting for itself quite a slice of melon.

Back in 1942 the state association took $16,378.56 out of the tournament. In 1943 it cut hopped to $17,682.43. The following year, 1944, gave the governing body $24,861.66.

Then things really started humming, and in 1945 the association delved in for $31,286.53 — A figure which placed beside the 1946 "cit" of $45,135.86. The 1947 gate looks like another bell-ringer, and the association may slip over $50,000 for the first time.

For the last five years the average association take has been $27,269.01 — most of which goes to finance the group's far-flung activities.

It has never happened in the 24 years of the state cage event, but there's a chance the quarter-century of play will wind up with two

MAJOR'S HEARING MONDAY MAY PACK FIREWORKS, RUMOR

Chandler Expected To Be Rough on Yanks, Dodgers Next Week

(By Associated Press)

TAMPA, Fla., March 19.—Despite Commissioner A. B. Chandler's somewhat indignant declaration here that he isn't "prejudicing anybody" in the baseball hearing scheduled Monday at Sarasota, word has gotten around the training camp grapevine that it is likely to set off a major fireworks display.

With two such flamboyant performers as Presidents Larry MacPhail of the Yankees and Branch Rickey of the Dodgers appearing as the chief antagonists, it couldn't help developing a few fireworks. MacPhail has accused Rickey and his associates, including Manager Leo Durocher, of defaming the New York club.

What has the baseball world awaiting the event with considerable anticipation, however, is the widespread and apparently accurate report that the commissioner is fuming and sore at certain individuals connected with the game and that he is at last ready to crack down and establish his authority.

MacPhail contends that Rickey and Durocher have injured the Yankees, and presumably, the game, by stating for publication that a professional gambler sat in his, MacPhail's private box during a

8-A Team Cops First Junior High Contest

The first game of the Junior High basketball championship playoff Tuesday afternoon was won by the 8A cagers, who trounced SE 31-12 at the Memorial building.

8A was led in the scoring column by Bruce Fredericks and Bob Coy, each of whom netted nine points. John Votaw notched nine for SE.

The title series will be resumed later this week.

Training Camp Notes

LAKELAND, FLA.—The Detroit Tigers will send Al Benton and Rufe Gentry against the New York Yankees today as the two teams meet for their third exhibition game in four days. Fred Hutchinson and Virgil Trucks hurled the Bengals to a 2-1 win over the American league champion Boston Red Sox yesterday.

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA.—Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics called the Boston Braves a "great team" after the Braves licked the A's, 8-4, yesterday. "If they get the pitching they will go far," Connie said. George Binks, outfielder obtained from the Washington Senators, covered first base for the A's yesterday and hit two singles in addition to two long balls that backed Tommy Holmes to the wall. He also handled 12 chances without an error.

Columbiana Rotary Speaker Is Heard

COLUMBIANA, March 20—Imre Kovacs, Phoenixville, Pa., churchman and one of the editors of the Toledo Blade, gave in the high school auditorium Monday evening the second in a series of four addresses in an institute of public understanding in world affairs sponsored by the Columbiana Rotary club.

Kovacs spoke on "United Nations, Vehicle of World Co-operation." He thinks the United Nations will succeed if the United States backs the movement and is firm with Russia. He disagrees with President Truman on aid to Greece and Turkey, which he thinks should have been handled through the United Nations. He thinks Russia is entitled to warm water seaports, but that all these questions should be handled by the United Nations.

Ladies Night Observed
Kiwanians observed ladies' night Monday evening with a dinner in the Presbyterian church. There were about 60 present.

Larry Flint of Youngstown gave a humorous address. Other entertainment was furnished by the Top Hatters male quartet of Youngstown, with Billy Webb as master of ceremonies, who also sang solos.

Auxiliary to Meet
Auxiliary of Firestone Legion post will meet this evening. There will be initiation.

The auxiliary will send a girl this year to girls' state at Columbus, and has selected Lois Antram, with Margery Oesch alternate.

Philo class of the Methodist church will have its annual birthday party at the church Thursday evening. The committee is Mrs. Ross Gaver, Mrs. Harry Gilmore, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Reuben Russell, Mrs. Graydon Metz and Mrs. Earl Patterson.

Kindergarten Mothers club gave a St. Patrick's day party for their children in the kindergarten room of the high school building Monday morning.

GROVES IS NAMED TO SOIL DISTRICT

W. J. Hays, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Columbiana Soil Conservation district, announced today that the board has filled the vacancy caused by the death of Russell Lippincott by appointing Elden Groves of Salem.

Groves is practicing considerable conservation on land which he is farming and with his background in all agricultural fields he is well qualified to serve on the board.

All conservation farmers will hold the annual meeting of the Columbiana Soil Conservation district the night of April 8 at the Legion hall in Lisbon to hear C. D. Blubaugh tell of his trip to Europe, where he investigated the conditions of agriculture.

This is the annual meeting at which all farmers have the opportunity of bringing in their problems and discussing them together and of listening to an excellent address. A movie picture will be shown.

Boyle, Pittsburgh Sports Writer, Is Heart Victim

PITTSBURGH, March 19—Haverly J. Boyle, sports editor of the Post-Gazette and nationally known as a sports writer and columnist, died today of a heart ailment. Boyle, 53, became ill two weeks ago and was flown back from the Pittsburgh Pirates' training camp at Miami Beach, Fla.

Washingtonville

Beaver Creek Sportsmen club will hold an organization meeting Thursday evening at 8 in their club rooms located above the I. C. A. store, which was formerly occupied by the L. O. O. F. lodge. During the business session, there will be the election of officers. Refreshments will be served.

Merrymakers class of the Methodist church will be entertained by Miss Esther Ann Stecker this evening in the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McLellan.

Chic-A-Chu Club Meets

Mrs. Richard Hauer was hostess to the Chic-A-Chu club on Friday evening. The hours were spent with needlework, followed by a game period with Mrs. Emmett Brudery, Mrs. Harry Weikart of Leetonia and Mrs. Joseph Woods winning favors.

The refreshment table was decorated in the St. Patrick day theme. Next month the members will meet in the home of Mrs. Emmett Brudery.

Hazel Schnepf spent the weekend in Akron visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Emminger.

Mrs. Jay Denny of North Georgetown and Bruce Bricker of Salem visited Sunday with their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bricker.

Busy Bee society of the Methodist church held its monthly meeting on Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Albert Ritchie with Mrs. Morrell Weikart as associate hostess. Mrs. Theodore Riddle led the devotionals from the book "Upper Room." Mrs. Larry Yearace and Mrs. Russell Weikart were guests.

Contests were enjoyed with prizes going to several members and the special prize to Mrs. Yearace. The hostesses for the next meeting are Mrs. Louis Atkinson and Mrs. Helen Archer of Leetonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Griffith and daughter and Joe Hanzlick of Salem spent Sunday in the home of their sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vignon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stouffer Jr. have purchased a home on the Leetonia-Lisbon road and will move this week.

Admits Holdup Hoax

WELLSVILLE, March 19—Police today branded as a "hoax" a $160 holdup reported last night by an 18-year-old boy, who, exhibiting a bump on the side of his head, said he had been slugged and robbed in an alley. The "victim" admitted today, police said, that he had a friend "arrange the proposed holdup as a thrill."

Woman In Greece Gets Salem Gift

James Harrigan, 14, son of Mrs. Doris M. Harrigan of 308½ Ohio ave., recently received a letter from a woman in Athens, Greece, thanking him for the gift of a boy's coat which he contributed to Greek relief.

The youth put a note in one of the coat pockets, which led the recipient to reply.

The letter, signed by Mrs. Sonia Csakhalos, is as follows:

"I can't express to you my joy and my emotion when I found your little letter for me. I wish to thank you so much.

"Our government has given your gift to us because the barbarian conquerors Germans, a few days before going away, burned our home with all the indispensable for life and abandoned all my family in the road. I have two small girls, which send you many kisses and thank you so much and please you don't forget them if it is possible for you."

Signed: "A mother which will be always grateful to you."

TOY BOMB' BLAST FATAL TO BOY, 14

COLLEGE CORNER, O., March 19—Keith Williams, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Sr., living near Bath, Ind., died late last night from injuries received in the explosion of a "toy bomb."

Robert Balser, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Balser, also living near Bath, and whose right arm was mangled in the accident, was said today to be in fair condition. The boys were removed to a hospital at Hamilton, O., following the explosion.

Deputy Sheriff Rex Gilmore said the boys told him they were playing with the explosive in the belief it was a toy bomb and harmless. He said they were at the Balser home at the time.

Birth cards, instead of certificates, have been adopted by seven states of the Union: California, Mississippi, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee and Washington.
